Fourth Assault Upon Women By Negroes in District of Columbia.

THE SITUATION SENSATIONAL

Superintendent Says He Has Not Enough Men-Thirty-Eight at White House.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3 .- The fourth assault upon women by negroes in the District of Columbia within less than a week occurred to-day. The third was yesterday. The last one prior to that was on lost Saturday, and the first on the preceding day. the case of to-day was peculiarly dar-the negro going into the home of a ing, the negro going into the home of a Mrs. Fields, in Anacostia, a suburb, and choking her and then beating her into insensibility with a curtain rod. The miscreant then took Mrs. Field's pocket-book and made his escape. Several neighbors are said to have seen him running from the Fause. There is as yet no clue to the identity of the negro.

Still at Large. Still at Large.

The negro who assaulted and robbed Mrs. Emma Jett, in Brightwood, another suburb, yesterday, is still at large. Mrs. Jett fired five shots after the fleeing mesor after he left her.

The assailant of Miss Arciander, who was assaulted and robbed in Rock Creek Park last week, has been arrested and has confessed.

The negro who beat the escort of Miss Hunt into insensibility in a secluded spot in Rock Creek Park last week and then assaulted her, has not been cap-

Carnival of Crime.

The carnival of crime, as one of the papers terms the events of the past few days, is assuming sensational proportions. Mrs. William Alden Smith, wife of the Michigan Congressman, encountered a negro in the basement of their Q Street home Thursday night. The negro escaped. Mr. Smith was absent at the time.

The police force is demoralized by reason of the numerous crimes. Superintendent Sylvester is being aeverely criticised because of them and says the police force is inadequate. No less than thirty-eight men are on duty at the White House. In addition to that, a number of detectives have been employed by Secretary Loeb in getting evidence against the character and reputation of Mrs. Miner Morris, to be used in a secret document circulated among senators in advocacy of the confirmation of the nomination of Mr. Barnes, the man who threw her out of the White House, for the position of postmaster.

at present provides that the court which is to have jurisdiction over a case arising under the proposed law shall be the Federal court of the district in which the operating offices of the road are located. The effect of this in the case of the Southern Railroad, for instance, would be to cause all cases along its line to be brought to Washington for hearing.—wants the billy amended so as to give jurisdiction to any Federal Court where the road has a line, or to give jurisdicjurisdiction to any Federal Court where the road has a line, or to give jurisdiction to the court where the general offices of the road are located. In the case of the Southern, an amendment of the latter character would cause all trials to be had in Richmond. In case the bill be amended as proposed in the first instance, it might be possible for proceedings to be instituted by the railroad sin a Federal Court in Alabama over a case arising in Virginia. The senator is not satisfied that either amendment will cure the evil which he is trying to reach, and he may hit upon another way of securing somehit upon another way of securing some-thing like a local hearing for cases arising under the proposed law. A pro-vision that complaint shall be made in the Federal District in which the case arises would, probably, obviate the de-fect of the present bill.

The Senate has passed two bills in-troduced by Senator Martin, providing

"Wobbling" of Judiciary,

"Wobbling" of Judiciary,

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—During the depate in the Senate to-day on the railroad rate bill, Mr. Tillman took the floor to put into the record a number of statements he had gathered to justify his position that the people distrust the Federal courts. Proliminarily, he announced that he did not intend a wholesale onslaught upon the judiciary, and he acquitted the Supreme Court especially of questionable proceedings, although he said it had "wobbled" more or less. In the South, he went on, there were many excellent judges, but, on the other hand, some of them had "been guilty of very questionable and discreditable acts." Many of them were, he said, unduly prejudiced in favor of the railroads, and were wholly unfit to be trusted with the power of passing on railroad questions. Hence he argued that there would be no great risk in preventing their interference in such cases.

Mr. Tillman referred to the division of the Supreme Court on the income tax case, saying that in that case one of the judges had changed his mind. "Thus," he said, "the practice of a century was reversed, and the country submitted merely because of the plea that the highest court of the country must be sustained." He also cited other cases in other courts intended to show that some judges are "not only not infallible, but not incorruptible." The first of the references was to Judge Smith McPherson, of lown, who was reported in an article in the New York World of the 20th of March last as having appeared at a banque's to Governor Cumsins at Council Bluffs, in such a condition as "not to be able to stand up without clinging to the table."

Mr. Carter and other senators defended Judge McPherson as a man of great learning and of probity of character.

Mr. Tillman next referred to a pleasure trip to Tampico, given by three Kannas railroads to Federal Judges McPherson, Phillips and Pollock. The account was condensed from the Kannas City papers and showed that the judges had been transported in a special car and were accompanied by the general solicitors of the railroads giving the excursion. Mr. Tillman said that Judge Phillips had been especially commended by the President

"I believe it has come to be considered good law to issue injunctions against strikers." said Mr. Tilman, and added: "If it is not, the Senator from Wisconsin (Mr. Spooner) will correct.

The manner of this appeal to him evidently angered Mr. Spooner. He rose and replied sharply:

me in that way."

Mr. Tillman insisted upon withdrawing his question and apologizing, but Mr. Spooner remarked that he asked no apology. Upon an apparently good-natured command to Mr. Spooner to sit down. Mr. Tillman and the chair became involved in a spirited colloquy as to who had the floor. The decision was favorable to Mr. Spooner, who remarked that in ordering him to take his seat Mr. Tillman merely had accentuated what he regarded as "a great piece of rudeness." After Mr. Tillman had offered an apology, Mr. Spooner sat down, with the statement that he did so of his own voiltion.

Mr. Tillman maintained that Mr. Spooner had acted very harshly toward him and charged him practically with having been "indecent." To this Mr. Spooner responded that he would withdrew the word and substitute "rude." This satisfied Mr. Tillman, who said he did not object to the word because he was a rude man and did not care.

Case of Daniels.

Mr. Tillman then considered the case of Editor Daniels, of the Raieigh, N. C., News and Chserver, who had been placed in prison because of a refusal to pay a fine of $2,000 for criticising the appointment of a received for a received. ment of a receiver for a railroad by Judge would take up the case of Circuit Judge Pardee in enjoining the Florida Raliroad Commission from instituting suit to compel the Louisville and Nashville Raliroad to reduce its fares from four to three cents a mile. He charged that Pardee ought to be impeached for his course.

Mr. Tillman next paid his respects to the case of Judge Charles Swayne, of Florida, whom the Senate refused last session to impeach, and asked to incorporate in his remarks a statement prepared by Representative Laman, of Florida.

Mr. Tillman then closed with an apol-

Mr. Tillman then closed with an apology, explaining that the situation was such as to require the administering of "some physic," He would not allow the judges to "roam up and down the land, doing whatever the railroads want and refusing to grant relief to the people."

Mr. Bacon criticised the course of Mr. Tillman in the latter's strictures against the judiciary. Mr. Tillman interrupted to ask Mr. Bacon if he did not believe it proper to call the attention of the country to the dereliction of judges, in view of the fact that there was no way of punishing them except by impeachment, to which question Mr. Bacon responded that the Senate had no right to originate charges, and that for it to do so was to usurp the power of the House, and in a measure disqualify senators from conducting impeachment proceedings.

Mr. Tillman declared that he had not intended to censure the entire judiciary, but contended that, so long as there were such man as McCornick, Pardee and Swayne on the bonch, the criticism of

Vincennes Will Be Made

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, May 3.—A bomb explosion occurred in the forest of Vincennes this atternoon, killing a Russian jumed Striga and dangerously wounding a companion and dangerously wounding a companion named Sokiloff.

The two men were pursued through the woods, each carrying a bomb, with the evident purpose of hiding them for future use. While so doing, the bomb which Strign carried exploded, killing him instantly. Sokiloff was struck by fragments of the bomb and fearfully lacerated. Several persons saw the explosion. Striga's right hand was torn off, his right leg broken and his abdomen torn open. The police found a revolver in Striga's pocket.

Striga and Sokiloff were students of the School of Mines and members of the Russian students' union. They also belonged to the Revolutionary Society. Nether of the men have figured in the police registers of suspected foreigners. The residences of Russian revolutionists have been searched leading to the discovery of alleged incriminatory documents. Two cousins of Sokoloff were arrested. The authorities have been aware for some weeks that secret meetings were being held and believe that to-day's occurrence will leaft to the speedy clearing up of a mystery. The police are now engaged in a thorough search of the forest of Vincinnes, in expectation of finding a similar depot.

The authorities this evening exploded the second bomb, which was found to be extremely destructive. Its effects extended for 200 yards, destroying many trees. The bombs were of the shape of a pine cone, exactly similar to the one thrown against King Alfonso and President Loubet in Paris May 31, 1905. WASHINGTON, May 3.—No advices were received at the State Department over night relative to the cases of the three American fishing vessels captured by a Mexican gunboat and taken into Progresso. The American minister has reported, however, that he has sent by mail an account of the incident, and this is daily expected here.

Under instructions from the department, Mr. Thompson is using his good offices with the Mexican authorities in behalf of the arrested fishermen, and it is expected at the department that they will be speedily released on bail and permitted to return to Pensacola and Galveston.

LACK OF MINISTERS

Lament Decline in Spiritual Tone of Family Life.

(By Associated Press.)
BIRMINGHAM, ALA., May 3.—The conference was called to order by _ishop A. W. Wilson, of Baltimore, the senior bishop, while Bishop J. S. Key led in theopening prayer. Bishops Fitzger and Granbery are the only absentees. Dr. J. J. Tigert, of Nashville, secretary of the general conference, was re-elected. The address of bishops was read by Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of Mississippi. The address among other things said:

"The increase in membership during the last four years was 109,427, against 38,685 during the preceding four years. We have now 1,614,618 members, 1,039,785 Sunday school scholars and 120,487 Epworth League members. The receipts of our board for foreign missions for this quadrennium were $1,659,941, an increase over the preceding four years of $405,673. The collections for church extension were $372,449, an increase of $112,833 over the quadrennium ending in 1902. During the plast year the Woman's Foreign Missions. $372.49, an increase of $112,835 over the quadrennium ending in 1902. During the past year the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society received $155,903 and the Woman's Home Mission Society $101,708.

If these amounts be added to the receipts by the general and annual conference boards, we have a sum total for home and foreign missions during the year now closing of 4955,779.

Church Alarmed.

Church Alarmed.

The address lamented "our decreasing supply of ministers. All of the evangelical churches are feeling a measure of alarm. New fields are opening and new demands for ministerial service are multiplying, but the laborers are few."

In seeking to explain the cause of this situation, the bishops say it is doubtless due to "the decline in the spiritual tone of our family life."

The bishops recommend the organization of missionary educational work, which will secure the active co-operation of pastors, officials of Epworth leagues and superintendents of sunday schools; the formation of missionary study classes and a wider circulation of missionary literature; the expansion of the work of translating Christian literature into the Spanish and Portugues; the development of the young peoples missionary department; holding of an annual meeting in Nashville or zome other central point, of conference missionary secretaries and representatives of domestly boards of missions and the union of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies.

A telegram, expressing love and greeting, was sent to J. C. Berryman, of Caledonia, Mo., who is in his ninety-seventh year, and who is the sole survivor of the Methodist Conference of 1844. A message of sympathy and esteem was received from the Woman's Home Missionary Board, which has just adjourned at Ashville, N. C.

was decided upon to-day for the securing of funds to restore San Francisco. Although various schemes, some of them apparently feasible, have been submitted to the General Committee, none of them has yet been given official indorsement and financiers continue to worry over the problem. It is probable that several centers of the financial world will be consulted before any definite plan is formulated. The committee appointed by Mayor Schmitz to discuss plans for the reconstruction of San Francisco met today. E. H. Harriman was chosen vice-chairman, and Rufus P. Jennings, secretary. Mr. Harriman said:

"I believe that we ought to get to work. We should talk less and do more. I don't care if mistakes are made. It is better to be doing something than to remain idle. If you want me to work, I will pay a man to do it if I can get him; but if I cannot, I will go into the streets and pitch bricks myself."

Mr. Harriman said that it would be futile to attempt to raise money unless it was definitely known to what use the money would be unless for the money was to be used for.

Comprehensive Plan.

Clty Engineer Woodward to-day submitted a comprehensive plan for the rebuilding of the city. It includes the broadening and the extension of many streets, the purpose being to insure better protection against the spread of fire, as well as to beautify the city. Mayor Schmitz has advised against extravagant ideas for the beautification of the new city. He estimated that the replacement of ruined municipal buildings, including achool and fire houses, will cost $100,000,000.

General Greeley advised the finance committee this afternoon that he had only eleven days' rations on hand; that the army could not furnish an ounce of feed beyond that which has already been purchased, or is in sight and that the demands immediate attention.

The action of certain retailers in advancing the price of commodities beyond reasonable figures was considered to-day by the general committee. Some firms are now asking for time $2.50 a barrel, which they sold before the fire for 70 cents.

Cleaning Up.

Cleaning Up.

The gigantic task of clearing up the great ruined region was to-day attacked on a larger scale. Curtailment of the relief list, together with the decision of the police to arrest as vagrants all able men without visible means of support who refuse to work, added to that number of men engaged in cleaning away the debris. The railroads have made good progress in running spur tracks into the burned area.

Next week these tracks will be utilized to remove all upless material to low places for filling and grading.

Although the water supply in the ruined part of the city is increasing daily, there is not yet an adequate flow for use in case of fire.

According to P. H. McCarthy, president of the Building Trades Council, there is no dearth of mechanics in San Francisco. He advises against mechanics coming to San Francisco. President McCarthy said that the council would not ratify the slightest change of the previous standard of wages, and that no advantage would be taken of the people who contemplate reconstructing buildings.

A mass of gold and silver valued at $3,500 melted by the fire in the store of Tai Sing, a Chinese merchant at Washington and Dupont Streets, to-day, was recovered by the police at Broadway and Stockton Streets, where it was found hidden.

interest snown in the carrier part of the dobate that ensued.

Toward the close of the day, however, a lively controversy occurred between Mr. Bates, of Pennsylvania; Mr. Williams, of Mississippi; Mr. Clark, of Missouri, and Mr. Payne, of New York, over certain statements made by Mr. Bates, in relation to the price of steel rails.

The discussion took on a wide tariff range, a forerunner of still further tariff discussion as the session nears its close. It is expected that general debate will continue to-morrow, the bill being taken up by sections on Saturday.

It also casts numerous faces of job type, enabling the printer to replenish his "sorts" whenever necessary. This alone makes it invaluable to the general printing office.

In space occupied it is a great economizer, but it is its scope of work that is unsurpassed.
